

Books for free!

2012-01-30

The Department of Political Science gives away a large number of books for free. The books have been sorted out from our shelves and are mostly of a social science character, but other subject areas can also be found. All interested are welcome to take a look.

The books can be collected from the bookshelf next to the office for student affairs on the 4th floor in the F-building.

Welcome!

Note: due to lack of space not all books are available at the moment. The rest will be displayed at soon as there is room.